A beam and two shells: Kurvi and Jackson, perfect choice and successful match for a bench seating solution. Three or four seats, or coffee tables as per the interior designers' needs, will make the waiting comfy and funny.

By adding a beam, and the option of seat shaped tables the product is ideally suited to airport lounges, waiting rooms. The flexibility of Kurvi and Jackson bench is a dynamic well solved solution, it works as a family or for individual applications. waiting rooms or airports often offer very hard solutions, which are not comfortable for long periods of time. Kurvi and Jackson offers extended elements of luxury, to ensure the customer wait is a much more pleasurable one.
