

pinto

Pinto can be loosely scattered as an independent sofa with stools or linked in a modular landscape for a more organised solution, either option caters for the demands of compact office, or large open areas. For working, or relaxing in reception areas, public spaces, the range is complimented with a range of circular lowlevel or laptop tables. Go straight, Slightly turn left and right, give a break on the pouf, check your mails and continue the flow. The design flexibility of Pinto, gives you the chance to design any curvilinear waiting seating, not limited with the standards offered.

"As a designer
I feel that
products
need to work in harmony with each-other, the Pinto range
of products work
well individually, or
as part of a larger
scheme, there are some key shapes
that link the range
together, and also
work with other
projects in the progressive deberenn
portfolio."

David Fox

