The more wood, the more natural Ash-tree or beech a perfect choice for colors on wood Leda chairs and armchair is a wide selection for any contract project. Designers can solve a boardroom as well as patient's room in a hospital. More over the quality wood finishing, the ash-tree selection is considered to match the color painting with surrounding elements.

A new interpretation of wooden armchair, between formal references and essential design. Even with thin foam layers, the idea of top comfort and of cosiness is perfectly reached. Leda is designed with three options: the chair, the armchair and the low wide armchair options for dining, waiting or lounge seating.
